IN HONOR OF STIRLING D. SCRUGGS, DIRECTOR, INFORMATION, EXECUTIVE BOARD AND RESOURCE MOBILIZATION DIVISION—UNITED NATIONS POPULATION FUND

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 20, 2003

Mrs. MALONEY. Mr. Speaker, at the end of this year, Stirling Scruggs will be retiring after 22 dedicated years with the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA). Stirling is a living example of the ideals behind the creation of UNFPA and the United Nations itself. A former high school football star in Tennessee, Stirling had many opportunities open to him in life. But his overriding ambition was one that so many of us shared in our youth: to make a difference in the world. Stirling has remained true to his youthful ideals and has made a difference, a substantial difference measured in millions of women and babies that survived because of his dedication and efforts; measured in the essential bonds between mothers and their children who survived to know each other and in the love of husbands and fathers who, rather than seeing their wives and children die in childbirth, have had long and full lives with their loved ones.

In speaking with his colleagues, there are three words that are always repeated when they describe Stirling Scruggs—Passion, Integrity and Kindness.

Passion: Stirling Scruggs has worked in some of the poorest places in the world. He has seen first hand the deprivations and struggles that hundreds of millions—in fact, billions of people—bear every hour, every day, every week throughout the year. Stirling Scruggs brings to his work a passion that bespeaks his own compassion and his own commitment to the cause of basic health, women and voluntary family planning around the world.

Integrity: Stirling combines his passion with unshakable integrity. He is unwavering in his commitment to basic health and rights for all the world's people. He has stood up for these ideals in some of the most difficult circumstances, including in China, where he worked tirelessly—as UNFPA does—to convince the Chinese about the greater wisdom of a voluntary, rights-based approach to family planning. Stirling Scruggs is a monument to personal integrity and professional dedication.

Kindness: Finally, and perhaps most importantly, Stirling brings to his work a core kindness—not only in his outlook to the dispossessed in our world, but in his dealings with all people. Stirling always has a kind word and a warm smile for those he works with, on behalf of and for. He is a tender man, who has a compassionate outlook toward those less fortunate and a compassionate manner with everyone he relates to.

There are few better, kinder men than Stirling Scruggs. He has represented the United States so well in the United Nations system. All Americans can be proud of the service he has rendered and we all wish him well as he continues his efforts to make the world—and each of us—a little better.

TRIBUTE TO WESLEY HEDSTROM

HON. JAMES L. OBERSTAR

OF MINNESOTA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 20, 2003

Mr. OBERSTAR. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to former Cook County Commissioner Wesley Hedstrom, who passed away on November 7, 2003.

Wes Hedstrom was born in 1924 in Grand Marais, Minnesota, the youngest of thirteen children. After graduating from Grand Marais High School in 1942, Wes joined the U.S. Army and served during World War II. Returning to Minnesota, Wes, along with five of his brothers, took over operation of their father's business, Hedstrom Lumber, and he was company president from 1986 to 2000. In 1984, Wes was elected to the Cook County Board of Commissioners, on which he served for the next 16 years.

Except for the few years he was in the Army, Wes lived his entire life in Grand Marais, a small fishing town along Minnesota's north shore. Many people say that Wes was largely responsible for the enormous growth of his family's lumber business, turning it into one of the region's largest and most successful companies. For Wes, however, it was more than a business; it was a way of life. He had extensive knowledge of lumber and the woodlands. I learned more from Wes about forestry, forest management and sustainable yield forestry than from any other source.

Wes understood the need for balance between the lumber industry and protections for the environment. He applied that fair-minded attitude to all the projects he worked on in the community, both as a County Commissioner and as a civic volunteer. From the renovation of a local hospital, to the creation of a new airport, to the advocacy for education funding, Wes worked to nurture people, find a consensus, and do what was in the public's best interest. That was his signature and his trademark.

Some called him an activist. Others said he was a pioneer. All who crossed his path considered him a friend. I knew Wes since he worked on my first Congressional campaign in 1974, and over the years, I marveled at his friendliness, magnanimity and selflessness. To me, Wes was a teacher, counselor and partner in ventures for the Northland, and he was a good friend to me. He was one of those rare people who truly made a difference in his community. I know my colleagues join me in honoring Wes Hedstrom for his many years of dedicated service to his town, his State and his country.

COMMENDING DENTON HOUSING AUTHORITY

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 20, 2003

Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker I rise today to recognize the Denton Housing Authority to commend them for receiving three National Association of Housing and Redevelopment Officials (NAHRO) Merit Awards in Tampa, Florida this year.

The Denton Housing Authority has been active in the North Texas community for years, working hard to provide quality public and affordable housing. This year at the 2003 NAHRO awards ceremony, the Denton Housing Authority was recognized for their achievements in Program Innovation for Resident and Client Services. NAHRO President Kurt Creager said, "These agencies are accomplishing remarkable levels of service for their communities and their residents. They are setting up programs and establishing standards that can be duplicated by other housing authorities around the country."

The Denton Housing Authority was recognized for three of their programs. The ARTS program brings together the DHA, University of North Texas, Center for Public Service, and Greater Denton Arts Council to provide an arts program and promote social skills for disadvantaged youth in low-income neighborhoods. The New Direction of Community Oriented Policy Services (COPS) program partners with the Denton Police Department to encourage community outreach services to create and sustain safer neighborhoods. Also, the Phoenix After-School Program teams with the University of North Texas and DHA to encourage social and academic success for socially challenged youth 4–11 years old living in the Phoenix Development. These are the kind of great programs that will create a better society in the future by giving our youth a strong foundation and forming a safer environment for our neighborhoods.

Once again, I would like to express my sincere congratulations to the Denton Housing Authority for their innovation and hard work in providing community outreach services to the City of Denton and surrounding communities.

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, November 20, 2003

Mr. MANZULLO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in tribute to my colleague and friend in Illinois, David A. Wirsing, State Representative from the 70th district. Dave went home to be with the Lord suddenly on Sunday, November 16, 2003. He leaves a loving wife of over 40 years, Nancy, four grown children—Mark, Steven, Angela and Susan—and 11 grandchildren.

Dave Wirsing was a friend in the truest sense of the word. He was a man of deep personal faith, a loving and faithful husband to Nancy and a wonderful father to his four children. He spent the majority of his life in agriculture as a former pork producer and grain
